

INTERNATIONAL STUDY PATHWAYS

Student Visa Requirements & University Placement Services

A practical guide for Kenyan applicants considering undergraduate or master's study in the United States, United Kingdom, Canada, Australia or New Zealand.

PLAN YOUR STUDIES. PREPARE YOUR APPLICATION. UNDERSTAND THE COSTS.

Millennia supports students through preliminary university research, school application coordination and student visa preparation. This guide summarises common documents, country-specific requirements and the scope of our services.

Two ways to work with Millennia

1 | PRELIMINARY UNIVERSITY SEARCH & SHORTLIST

KES 50,000 per country

A focused research assignment to identify universities and programmes that match your academic background and study interests in one selected destination country.

- Review of your qualifications, course interest and preferences
- Research and shortlist of relevant universities/programmes
- Summary of published entry requirements and official university links

2 | UNIVERSITY PLACEMENT & STUDENT VISA COORDINATION

KES 300,000 service fee

A full-service coordination package for an agreed study pathway, including school liaison, application/document preparation, language-test booking and practice-question familiarisation, and oversight of the student visa process.

- Admission, enrolment and language-test coordination
- Student visa documentation and application oversight
- Standard document certification/notarisation and Ministry of Foreign Affairs liaison where required, within the agreed scope

Please note: most government and third-party costs are separate. The KES 300,000 full-service package includes standard certification/notarisation and Ministry of Foreign Affairs liaison costs for agreed documents. Visa, embassy/visa-centre, biometrics, medical, translation and language-test fees are paid by the applicant.

GENERAL CHECKLIST

Documents for Kenyan student applicants

Use this as a preparation checklist. Not every item is required in every country or for every applicant.

IMPORTANT

Start preparing early. Universities set their own admission requirements, while immigration authorities apply country-specific rules. Your final checklist will depend on the course, institution, funding arrangement and personal history.

A. Identity and personal records

- Valid Kenyan passport and clear copies of the bio-data page and any relevant visa/entry stamps.
- National ID, birth certificate or other civil-status documents if requested by the institution or immigration authority.
- Passport-style photographs or digital photo meeting the applicable specifications, where required.
- Previous visa refusals, immigration history and details of prior travel, where requested or relevant.

B. Academic and admission records

- Academic transcripts, certificates and degree award documents for all relevant levels of study.
- KCSE results/certificate and other prior qualifications for undergraduate entry; diploma or bachelor's degree documents for master's entry, as applicable.
- CV/resume, statement of purpose or personal statement, references/recommendation letters, portfolio, research proposal or writing sample if the programme requires them.
- English-language test results or other evidence of proficiency, unless the institution or relevant immigration route accepts an exemption or alternative. Test type, version and score must be checked before booking.
- Official offer/acceptance/enrolment document required for the destination country. The document name varies by country.

C. Financial and sponsorship evidence

- Evidence of funds for tuition, living expenses and travel, in the form accepted by the relevant authority.
- Where a parent, relative or other sponsor pays: sponsor letter, proof of relationship where relevant, sponsor identity, financial documents and evidence of the source of funds.
- Scholarship award, student loan approval or official sponsorship letter, if applicable.
- Tuition deposit/payment receipt if already paid and required as evidence.

D. Additional items that may be required

- Medical examination, tuberculosis test or chest X-ray, if required for the destination and applicant.
- Police clearance certificate or other character evidence, if requested.
- Biometrics (fingerprints and photograph) at the designated location, where required.
- Certified copies, notarisisation, authentication or Ministry of Foreign Affairs processing where the institution or authority requires it.
- Translations by a translator meeting the destination's rules for any document not in the required language.
- A credible study plan explaining course choice, academic progression, career objectives and how the studies will be funded.

Do not legalise or translate every document automatically.

Certification, notarisisation and translation rules are not identical across countries. Millennia will help identify the applicable document format for the agreed application. Unrequested processing can cost time and money.

COUNTRY GUIDE

United States of America

For students seeking an undergraduate or master's degree at a US institution.

Typical route: F-1 student visa for academic degree studies

What Kenyan applicants should prepare

- Admission to a school authorised to enrol international students under the Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP).
- Form I-20 issued by the school after admission and required student information has been recorded in SEVIS.
- Completed DS-160 nonimmigrant visa application, passport, photo according to instructions, and visa application payment evidence.
- Proof of ability to pay tuition, living costs, travel and other study-related expenses. Evidence may involve the student, sponsor, scholarship or other credible funding source.
- Academic transcripts, certificates, test scores and other records relevant to the school admission and the intended course.
- Readiness to attend a consular interview and answer questions about academic preparation, funding and plans after study.
- SEVIS I-901 fee payment and biometrics/interview steps as required; keep the receipts and confirmations.

Country-specific points to check

The school's I-20 is a key document, but admission does not guarantee a visa. A consular officer assesses the application and may request additional evidence. The applicant pays applicable visa and SEVIS fees directly.

Official guidance

Requirements depend on the applicant, course, institution and current rules. Confirm the live official checklist before submitting.

COUNTRY GUIDE

United Kingdom

For eligible students accepted by an authorised UK education provider.

Typical route: Student visa

What Kenyan applicants should prepare

- A Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) from a licensed student sponsor. A CAS is issued by the provider and is not the same as a general offer letter.
- Valid passport or other accepted travel document.
- Financial evidence showing the required course fees and living costs, unless an applicable exemption applies. Exact amounts and evidence rules depend on the case and location of study.
- Evidence of English-language ability in the form accepted for the course and visa route.
- A valid ATAS certificate if the course and applicant are subject to the Academic Technology Approval Scheme.
- Tuberculosis test certificate if required for the application. Kenyan applicants applying for a visa for a stay of more than six months will commonly need to check the UK's current TB testing rules and approved-clinic instructions.
- Additional documents for applicants under 18 or applicants relying on official financial sponsorship, where relevant.

Country-specific points to check

A CAS is normally needed before a Student visa application can be completed. The Immigration Health Surcharge and visa application fee are separate government charges paid by the applicant. Always check the current financial rules and approved TB clinic instructions before booking.

Requirements depend on the applicant, course, institution and current rules. Confirm the live official checklist before submitting.

COUNTRY GUIDE

Canada

For students accepted to an eligible Canadian designated learning institution (DLI).

Typical route: Study permit (and visa/travel document if required)

What Kenyan applicants should prepare

- Letter of acceptance (LOA) from the designated learning institution that will provide the programme.
- Provincial or territorial attestation letter (PAL/TAL) in most cases, unless the applicant and programme qualify for an exception. Quebec has additional requirements, including the CAQ where applicable.
- Valid passport and identity documents.
- Proof of funds for tuition, living expenses and travel. For programmes longer than one year, applicants should also explain how the remaining duration will be funded.
- Study plan and supporting evidence explaining why the programme and institution fit the applicant's academic/career pathway.
- Biometrics, medical examination or police certificate if required for the applicant's circumstances.
- Evidence of prior education, language ability and any additional documents required by the institution or the specific application checklist.

Country-specific points to check

From 1 January 2026, students entering a degree-granting master's or doctoral programme at a public institution are exempt from the PAL/TAL requirement in the federal rules; Quebec-specific requirements still apply. Other exemptions exist, so check the official PAL/TAL guidance for each case.

COUNTRY GUIDE

Australia

For students enrolled in an eligible full-time course in Australia.

Typical route: Student visa (subclass 500)

What Kenyan applicants should prepare

- A valid Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) for the intended course, generally in a course registered on CRICOS.
- Evidence of Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the relevant period, unless an exemption applies.
- Responses and supporting evidence for the Genuine Student requirement, showing that study is the primary purpose and explaining the applicant's circumstances and course choice.
- Evidence of financial capacity where required by the application checklist or requested during processing.
- Passport and identity documents, academic records, and English-language evidence where required by the course or visa process.
- Health and character evidence as required; biometrics may be requested depending on the case.
- Translations for documents not in English, following the Department of Home Affairs instructions. Australian rules do not require every document to be certified.

Country-specific points to check

A CoE is a central visa document and must remain valid when the visa decision is made. The official document checklist can differ by applicant; financial evidence may be requested even where it is not shown in the initial checklist. Visa and other external charges are paid separately.

Official guidance

Australian Department of Home Affairs - Student visa subclass 500: <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/student-500>

Requirements depend on the applicant, course, institution and current rules. Confirm the live official checklist before submitting.

COUNTRY GUIDE

New Zealand

For students paying international tuition fees themselves or with family, loan or scholarship support.

Typical route: Fee Paying Student Visa (or another appropriate student category)

What Kenyan applicants should prepare

- Offer of place from an approved education provider. The provider must meet the applicable requirements for international students.
- Evidence that tuition fees have been paid, can be paid, or are covered by a scholarship or another accepted arrangement.
- Evidence of enough money for living expenses and of the genuine source of those funds, or acceptable sponsorship/financial undertaking.
- Passport and identity documents.
- Evidence of acceptable medical/travel insurance arrangements as required by the provider and student visa rules.
- Evidence of a ticket to leave New Zealand at the end of the stay, or funds to pay for one, where required.
- Medical examination, chest X-ray and police certificate if required based on age, length of stay and personal circumstances.
- Academic and English-language evidence required by the institution, plus any additional visa checklist documents.

Country-specific points to check

Immigration New Zealand advises applying well in advance; its Fee Paying Student Visa guidance recommends applying at least three months before intended travel. Applicants applying from outside New Zealand may be able to begin assessment with a conditional offer, but an unconditional offer may be needed before approval.

Official guidance

Immigration New Zealand - Fee Paying Student Visa: <https://www.immigration.govt.nz/visas/fee-paying-student-visa/>

Requirements depend on the applicant, course, institution and current rules. Confirm the live official checklist before submitting.

Language tests and booking support

Many undergraduate and master's programmes require evidence of language proficiency. The required test, version and minimum score depend on the institution, course, previous education and destination-country rules. A test accepted for admission is not automatically accepted for visa purposes.

Common English-language tests

- IELTS Academic: widely used for university admission. IELTS for UKVI is a different route-specific option and should only be booked when the university or visa instructions require it.
- TOEFL iBT: an academic English test accepted by many institutions. Check the required format and any destination-specific registration rules before booking.
- PTE Academic: a computer-based academic English test accepted by many universities. Some visa routes require a particular version, so confirm the exact test before paying.
- Cambridge English qualifications: C1 Advanced and C2 Proficiency may be accepted by some institutions, subject to their score and qualification rules.
- Duolingo English Test: accepted by some institutions but not all; do not assume it will satisfy a visa-specific English requirement.
- Other accepted tests: depending on the institution and route, alternatives such as LanguageCert Academic, CELPIP General or MET may be relevant. Tests designed for specific professions, such as OET, are only appropriate where expressly accepted.
- For a programme taught in a language other than English, the institution may require a test in that language. We will confirm the relevant test requirement within the agreed study pathway before booking.

Language-test support included in the KES 300,000 service fee

- Review the course and destination requirements to help identify an appropriate test and test version before booking.
- Assist with booking or registration for the agreed test and help the applicant understand the booking steps and required identification.
- Provide guided familiarisation with the test format, timing and question types, using practice questions and sample-style exercises.
- The applicant pays the test fee, any retake fee and any optional external language course directly to the provider. Millennia does not administer the test or guarantee a particular score.

Important before booking

- Do not book a test until the target institution and applicable visa route have been checked. Some institutions waive test requirements or accept prior education in English; requirements can also differ between admission and immigration.
- The UK may require an approved Secure English Language Test (SELT) in some cases. Australia has a visa-specific list of accepted English tests and does not accept at-home/remote-proctored tests for Student visa evidence. Accepted tests and rules can change.
- The applicant must take the test personally, comply with provider rules, and submit genuine results. Any additional tutoring, paid preparation course or test retake is outside the included booking and practice-question support.

COST PLANNING

Indicative government, biometrics and medical charges

Reference date: 24 October 2026. Estimates are for a single main applicant applying from Kenya. Exact charges depend on the route, course, visa length, medical instructions and payment method.

Destination	Published government / process charges	Medical and other notes
USA	F-1 application: US$185 (~KES 24,000) + SEVIS I-901: US$350 (~KES 45,500). Baseline total: US$535 (~KES 69,500).	A standard F-1 application does not normally have a separate immigration medical exam. Universities may require immunisation records, health forms or insurance. U.S. law also provides for a separate Visa Integrity Fee with a statutory minimum of US$250 (~KES 32,500), subject to adjustment. As of 22 October 2026, a uniform collection process was not verified; check official consular instructions. If charged, budget at least an extra KES 32,500.
UK	Student visa: £558 (~KES 96,900). IHS: £776 per year (~KES 134,700 per year). Illustrative 18-month IHS: £1,164 (~KES 202,000); visa + IHS approximately KES 299,000.	UK TB test for applicants aged 11+ who need a certificate: US$107 (~KES 13,900). The final IHS depends on the visa validity period. Extra visa-centre services are separate.
Canada	Study permit: CAD 150 + biometrics: CAD 85 where required = CAD 235 (~KES 21,800).	Medical examination may be required depending on the applicant and circumstances. IOM Kenya's published Canada-bound information sheet lists US$185 (~KES 24,000) for age 15+; confirm the current fee with the clinic and allow for extra investigations.
Australia	Student visa (subclass 500): from AUD 2,500 (~KES 228,400). VFS biometric collection service: KES 4,222 if biometric collection is required at the centre.	IOM Kenya's published fee sheet lists US$160 (~KES 20,800) for temporary-visa medical assessment for applicants aged 15+; this is an indicative published tariff, not a guaranteed current quote. Additional tests may cost more.
New Zealand	Fee Paying Student Visa: from NZD 850 (~KES 62,900).	Medical examination and/or chest X-ray depends on length of stay and circumstances. IOM Kenya's published sheet lists US$240 (~KES 31,200) for a full medical assessment for age 15+; many students may not need the full medical, so first confirm the exact instruction and current fee.

Currency method: estimates use indicative market rates around 23 October 2026 (approximately US$1 = KES 129.89; £1 = KES 173.58; CAD 1 = KES 92.77; AUD 1 = KES 91.34; NZD 1 = KES 74.04). Bank and card rates may be higher.

These are application-related charges only. They do not include tuition, university application fees, tuition deposits, student insurance, proof-of-funds amounts, flights, accommodation or living expenses. Medical prices marked as published schedules must be reconfirmed with the approved clinic.

LANGUAGE TEST COSTS

Common English proficiency tests in Kenya

The exact test, test version and minimum score must be confirmed with the selected university and the relevant immigration route before booking. Not every institution accepts every test.

Test	Published fee / planning estimate	Important booking note
IELTS Academic (computer)	KES 41,580	Common university admissions test. Confirm required mode and scores with the institution.
IELTS Academic (writing on paper)	KES 45,740	Availability and format depend on the test centre.
IELTS for UKVI Academic (computer)	KES 44,840	Book only where the university or visa route requires this specific UKVI test.
TOEFL iBT	KES 29,950 through authorised Kenya agents	Check the required test format, delivery mode and acceptance by the target institution.
Duolingo English Test (DET)	US$70 (~KES 9,100) published price; verify at booking	Accepted by some universities but not all. Do not assume it satisfies a visa-specific requirement.
PTE Academic / Cambridge English / other approved tests	Check the live test-centre quote	Local pricing depends on test type, centre and booking date. UK and Australian visa rules may specify approved tests or versions.

Included in Millennia's KES 300,000 service fee: help identifying the appropriate test, booking/registration assistance and guided familiarisation with test format and practice-question types. The applicant pays the test fee, retakes and any optional paid preparation course directly to the provider.

Budgeting recommendation: keep government fees, biometrics, medical/TB tests, translations, university charges and language-test fees outside the KES 300,000 service fee. A typical UK one-year master's visa can incur about KES 299,000 in visa fee plus IHS alone, while Australia's visa fee starts around KES 228,400 before medicals, biometrics or a language test.

Prices reviewed 24 October 2026. Always reconfirm with the official provider before payment. Exchange rates, test centre prices and government fees can change.

WORKING WITH MILLENNIA

Service scope, fees and responsibilities

Our fees cover Millennia's professional work. Government, university and other external charges are separate unless expressly stated otherwise.

Service 1 — Preliminary university search & shortlist

KES 50,000

PER DESTINATION COUNTRY

Includes

- Review of the applicant's stated academic profile and study preferences.
- Research within one selected destination country.
- A tailored shortlist of relevant universities/programmes with available published requirements and official links.

The fee is country-specific. A search in another country is a separate assignment and fee. The service is a research and shortlist exercise, not an admission application, scholarship application or visa service.

Service 2 — University placement & student visa coordination

KES 300,000

MILLENNIA SERVICE FEE

Includes, within the agreed application scope

- University and school liaison for agreed admission and enrolment documents.
- Prepare the agreed university and student visa forms and supporting file.
- Identify an accepted language test, assist with booking, and provide practice-question familiarisation. Test fees are paid by the applicant.
- Guide the student visa application and next steps, including biometrics and medical appointments where required.
- Standard certification/notarisation and Ministry of Foreign Affairs liaison costs for agreed documents, where required.
- Client updates throughout the agreed engagement.

This service fee is for one applicant and one agreed destination-country study pathway. The written agreement will set out the destination, programmes, institutions, applications, timelines and responsibilities. Additional countries or expanded scope may be quoted separately.

Costs paid by the applicant

Government/embassy charges	Student visa or study-permit application fees, consular/visa-centre fees, SEVIS fees where applicable, and other required government charges.
Biometrics and medicals	Biometrics/collection charges, medical examinations, TB tests, chest X-rays and related clinic charges.
Translations	Translation of documents by an appropriately qualified or accepted translator, where required.
University and study costs	University application fees, tuition deposits, tuition fees, student insurance/health cover, accommodation, travel and living expenses.
Language-test fees	The applicant pays required test and retake fees (for example IELTS, TOEFL, PTE, Cambridge English or Duolingo where accepted). Millennia's test-selection guidance, booking assistance and practice-question familiarisation are included in the KES 300,000 service fee. Optional paid preparation courses are extra.
Other third-party costs	Courier/delivery, police certificates, optional external courses and any other cost not expressly included in the signed agreement.

FROM ENQUIRY TO APPLICATION

How the process works

Each engagement is tailored to the applicant's profile and the selected country.

01	Initial profile review We review your academic history, intended course, career goals, intake, budget and country preferences.
02	University search and shortlist If commissioned, Millennia researches one selected country under the KES 50,000 preliminary search service.
03	Confirm the full-service scope The written agreement confirms the country, programmes, institutions, application count, responsibilities, timelines and KES 300,000 fee.
04	School application and admission coordination Millennia coordinates agreed school applications and liaises about official offer/enrolment documents. The university decides admission.
05	Document preparation and authentication Millennia prepares the agreed file and handles included certification/notarisation and Ministry of Foreign Affairs liaison.
06	Visa application oversight Millennia assembles agreed student visa documents and guides you through required steps and appointments.
07	Applicant completes external steps You pay external fees, attend the required language test and biometrics/medical appointments, provide evidence when requested and review application details.
08	Decision and next steps The immigration authority decides the case. Millennia shares procedural updates and explains next steps within the agreed scope.

Client responsibilities

- Provide accurate, genuine documents and disclose relevant refusals or immigration history.
- Meet university deadlines and respond promptly to requests.
- Pay visa/embassy, biometrics, medical, translation and language-test fees directly; attend required appointments and tests.
- Review application details before submission and report material changes. Universities, authorities and third-party providers control decisions and processing times.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Scope, safeguards and official sources

Please read these notes together with your written quotation and service agreement.

Important service terms

- No guarantee of admission, scholarship, visa approval or processing time. Universities decide admissions; immigration authorities decide visa/study-permit applications.
- The KES 50,000 preliminary search fee covers the agreed research and shortlist for one destination country only. A search in another country is commissioned separately.
- The KES 300,000 full-service fee includes Millennia's agreed professional coordination, language-test selection/booking assistance and practice-question familiarisation, plus standard certification/notarisation costs and Ministry of Foreign Affairs liaison costs for agreed documents. The applicant pays visa/embassy and visa-centre charges, biometrics, medicals, translations, language-test fees/retakes, university charges and other third-party costs listed in this guide. Additional or unusual document requirements will be discussed before extra work or charges are incurred.
- The preliminary search fee is a separate service. Whether it is credited towards the full-service fee, if at all, will be stated in the written quotation; do not assume it is automatically deducted.
- Government rules, required documents, fees and financial thresholds can change. The current official instructions and the applicant's own application checklist take precedence over this general guide.
- Millennia is an independent consultancy and is not an embassy, immigration authority or university. All application information remains subject to the applicant's review and approval.
